

#Save the Sparrow House

Conservation must come before the recreation. Birds are born free and they have the right to fly and live free.

Furthering this thought, DLF World School, a thinking school with soul, endeavored to do its bit to conserve the melodious chirping of sparrows. Delfites felt elated to be part of nest making workshop. The resource person, Mr Rakesh Khatri, a renowned environmentalist with his team apprised the students about the process and dispensable need of nest making.

The resource team provided eco friendly material to the students for nest making. The students in team of seven participated wholeheartedly in the activity. Delfites were blissful and contented with the workshop.

The School Head, Ms Dimple Puri, felicitated and extended vote of thanks to Mr. Khatri and team for such enriching and enlightening workshop. It was such a great learning and soulful exposure for the delfites.
